

Covid-19

COVID-19 is a huge topic these days. I'm sure everybody knows what it is.

COVID-19 is a virus that broke out in Wuhan, China, in December of 2019. Then it came to the United States. The symptoms of this virus are fever or chills, cough, and shortness of breath. The way it spreads is mainly person to person, mostly by respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes. It can also go through your nose and then attacks the lungs.

Last year in March we all thought the school was going to close for two weeks! Now, it's almost going to be one full year. It's been a long year for us, but we keep going through it.
